

New!

SafeThink Agriculture Course

SafeThink™ Agriculture is a new course specifically designed for the agriculture industry in Alberta. It has been developed with input from Alberta farmers and training specialists as a method to predict and prevent hazardous situations on the fly.

SafeThink Agriculture is now available at an introductory rate of $160.⁰⁰ per person. The course includes four interactive classroom sessions complemented by your own on-farm application of the concepts.

Safety is always a top concern on the farm. Take your commitment to the next level and register for SafeThink Agriculture today!

2011 Training Dates

Leduc

November 17, November 24, December 1, December 8

Vermilion

November 18, November 25, December 2, December 9

2012 Training Dates

Airdrie

January 12, January 26, February 9, February 23

Raymond

January 13, January 27, February 10, February 24

Provost

January 20, February 3, February 17, February 29

To register, call Astec Safety at 780.753.2905 or
Email: emasson@astecsafety.com

Farm Safety is No Accident

Farming can be a dangerous occupation. As a farm owner, you know that a safe and healthy farm is a productive one. Your top priority is the safety of your family, workers and self as you try to eliminate and minimize hazards as much as possible.

Are you prepared for every possibility? Farmers perform hundreds of different tasks on any given day, which can be overwhelming. How do you begin to train your workers for every possible hazard, in every different task they undertake?

With SafeThink™ Agriculture, you and your workers will learn a critical thinking strategy that allows you to predict, identify and prevent hazardous situations ‘on the fly’ throughout the work day.

This practical safety course teaches workers to automatically ask themselves a series of questions with each new task. The questions create awareness of potential hazards whether it is working at heights, handling livestock, operating machinery or using chemicals. Since the strategy is learned and applied, it easily becomes second nature. This is one course that will not end up sitting on your shelf gathering dust!

It won't take long to see how this day-to-day inclusion of safety positively changes the culture of your farm business to one that “walks the talk” when it comes to putting safety first. We all win when the result is improved safety and health for farm families and workers.

If you would like more information on SafeThink Agriculture please contact:

Laurel Aitken

Farm Safety Coordinator
Alberta Agriculture and Rural Development
Email: Laurel.Aitken@gov.ab.ca
Phone: 780.980.4230

Ed Masson

Course Instructor
Astec Safety Inc.
Email: Emasson@astecsafety.com
Phone: 780.753.4421

SafeThink Agriculture isn't your average safety course. It's a way of thinking. It's practical and easily becomes second-nature. People of all ages can benefit from learning this critical thinking strategy.

