

Forage

Green Prairie International is a respected global wholesale supplier of quality forage products and has become one of Canada's premier processors and suppliers of long-fiber timothy and alfalfa hay to valued international markets.

Stringent quality assurance ensures that the product consistently meets the needs and expectations of the customers. Careful attention is given to forage crops from their early growth and development stages to their harvest. This careful attention continues right through delivery to the plant and processing ensuring the products are free from contamination and meet high-quality standards fit for shipment to the consumer.

Forage products are compressed into bales that allow for easy and efficient handling. State-of-the-art compressing facilities allow Green Prairie to efficiently process forage crops to give consumers maximum return on investments. The majority of the products are consumed by horses and both dairy and beef cattle.

Green Prairie is a forward thinking company and is always innovating ways of harvesting, compressing and transporting hay globally. Located in close proximity to major transportation hubs, Green Prairie's exceptional logistical expertise ensures frequent and in-time delivery by truck or by ship.
