

EMPLOYERS' HANDBOOK

for Agriculture & Horticulture

Employers' Handbook

This project will serve to strengthen your ability as owners, managers and supervisors of an agricultural or horticultural workplace, to effectively deal with increasing workforce management expectations that are being placed on you. These new expectations are largely due to changing business practices, to changing government regulations, and to the global marketplace.

While every attempt has been made to trace and acknowledge copyright holders we would like to apologize should any omissions have been made.

Acknowledgements

This Alberta edition is a revision of an edition earlier compiled and published under the leadership of the Province of British Columbia Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food and is used with permission. We acknowledge the work of an Ontario edition published in Ontario. The original handbook was based on works published by other agricultural extension agencies in Canada and the United States. Without the leadership offered in those works, this material could not have been put together. Some of the people and the agencies for whom they work are listed in the Reference section at the end of this book.

Original material in the British Columbia edition was prepared by:

*Lorne Owen, P.Ag., M.Ag. Provincial Farm Management Specialist,
B.C. Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food
Pat Davidson, B.J., M.Ag., Extension Education Consultant
Howard R. Rosenberg, Ph.D., Director, Agricultural Personnel Management Program, University of California, Berkeley
Lindsay Brooks, President, Strategic Quality Institute*

In addition, staff from Agricultural Employment Services and Canada Agricultural Employment Centres contributed to earlier editions. Farm employer input was provided by many individuals in British Columbia, Ontario and Alberta.
