Business Analysis & Research Program

For Alberta Crop and Beef Producers

Alberta

AgriProfit$ Program

The AgriProfit$ business analysis and research program provides valuable management information to Alberta's crop and beef producers.

- An AgriProfit$ analysis details your production costs and returns for your beef, forage, grazing, and crop production on a per unit basis. (i.e: per cow, per lb. weaned, per bushel, per tonne).
- AgriProfit$ research and analysis projects provide the information needed to help producers assess practical, on farm management options.
- Annual budgeting and strategic planning are more effective when you use your own costs.

Knowledge of your production costs is an important element in managing and controlling your business.

When you say yes...

- You are sent the data collection forms to review and get a start on.
- An interviewer will make an appointment to help complete the survey for your farm. The on-farm data collection approach is the most effective method to ensure accuracy of the information collected.
- Farm and field level production, costs and returns, and investment information is compiled and analyzed by Economics Section at Agriculture and Forestry.
- You receive a free detailed analysis of your farm and it's enterprises.
- You receive AgriProfit$ benchmarks and information bulletins.

Why Participate?

An AgriProfit$ customized business analysis is an important foundation for your management decisions. There is no cost to you but the investment of your time. The benefits are significant.

Your participation also contributes to industry and regional research that benefits both you and the crop and beef industry in being competitive in the future.

The information you provide is collected under the authority of section 33(c) of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act and managed and protected in accordance with the act.
