

Where's the Cattle Market Going?

Global economics, a volatile dollar, and competing proteins – what does this all mean for a cattle herd that is contracting in size? Struggling demand but tightening supplies – which trumps which?

Come out and hear Anne Dunford's opinion on these topics, as well as presentations on the Cattle Price Insurance Program, Assessing Feeding and Retained Ownership Opportunities, and Federal Tax Deferral as it relates to herd size reduction.

Seminars will take place in the evenings at the following locations:

Ponoka – September 22

Hannah – September 23

Westlock – September 28

Vermilion – September 29

These seminars are the perfect way to get leading edge insight as to where the markets may be heading. More details on specific locations and times will be available on Ropin' the Web (www.agric.gov.ab.ca) starting early-September.