

Beta-Glucan Concentrate

GrainFrac is a vertically integrated company that operates in Camrose, Alberta. The company produces and sells a natural beta-glucan concentrated fiber called Cerabeta™ to the food ingredient and nutraceutical industries.

Cerabeta™ beta-glucan concentrate is a dry, white soluble fiber. It is scientifically proven to help lower cholesterol as well as improve digestive health, blood glucose regulation, immunity and satiety. Cerabeta™ beta-glucan concentrate is produced using the company's own innovative, patent pending dry process.

The company is 100% Canadian-owned by a group that includes key members from the farming, academic, and processing communities. They collaborate to produce, mill, extract, process, and package products in their fully accredited, solely Canadian facility.
