

Beef Cattle Embryos

Davis-Rairdan Embryo Transplants is located 30 minutes north of Calgary, Alberta, Canada and has more than 39 years of experience in the field of bovine embryo transfer. We have exported more than 100,000 embryos to 37 countries and can handle all aspects of international embryo shipments. We are able to source embryos of most beef cattle breeds from our clients, who are considered to be the “Elite” seedstock producers in Western Canada. This allows us to provide high quality proven beef cattle genetics which are custom suited to any International market.

Davis-Rairdan is certified by the Canadian Embryo Transfer association and approved by the Canadian Food Inspection Agency to produce bovine embryos for export. Our embryo transfer team has been involved in several large-scale embryo transfer projects around the world including Russia, Hungary, Colombia, Mexico and Sweden.
